the global scavenger hunt™

GlobalScavengerHunt.com

Wanted: Thirty experienced, travel savvy globetrotters interested in a unique off-the-beaten path, action-packed road adventure to compete for bragging rights and prizes, along with The World's Greatest Travelers™ crown... Warning! You will be challenged and culturally stimulated! This global adventure requires a fearless curiosity and a deep passion for travel, along with the ability to culturally immerse yourself in world-class fun.

The Global Scavenger Hunt™

For three thrill-packed weeks between April 13 – May 5, 2018, 15 two-person Teams are invited to go around-the-world and across 10 countries in The Global Scavenger Hunt on a truly once-in-a-lifetime travel adventure. The entry fee to participate in this 23-day global travel challenge is $25,000 per team*; that includes all international airfare, 23-nights in wonderful hotels, 40%+ meals…and great event-related travel goody bags. The 2018 winners will defend their title in 2019 for free…and you could also travel for free by helping others with the Great*Escape* Foundation!

The World's Greatest Travelers™

"It is like Survivor, The Amazing Race and the Eco-Challenge all rolled into one except with MUCH more cultural interaction!" - Marvin S., Canada

"Pure genius…brilliant from start to finish…a crash course in being a human being in the world."
- Rainey B., Pensacola, FL

"It's like Christmas and looking forward to opening another present each day and not knowing what it will be…" - Steve H., Los Angeles, CA

"I rate the hotels & hospitality events a 10!"
- Dean F., Rancho Mirage, CA

"An awesome quantity of art!" - Victoria R., NY, NY

"A cross between Abercrombie & Kent and Lonely Planet!" - Randy H., Newport Beach, CA

"The concept of not knowing our destinations was a wonderful experience …truly seamless."
- Carol B., Indianapolis, IN

A Blind Date with the World™

We won't be telling you where you're headed to until we all meet on April 13th. Teams will use their wits to solve riddles, unravel cryptic clues and uncover an assortment of hints while visiting sacred sites, lost cities, famous museums and unique cultural events; all while experiencing breathtaking natural local beauty and people. Each Team will overcome global challenges including: language barriers, cultural differences, logistical tests, team dynamics, and exotic locales, along with the usual unpredictable travel-related surprises and heat of competition. You will rest easy knowing that a warm and inviting First Class hotel awaits you at each and every stop along the way through 10 countries.

Global Scavenger Hunt's motto:
Trusting strangers in strange lands!

Participating in Something Big!

The Global Scavenger Hunt travel adventure competition will turn the entire world into your own personal gameboard. We promise you one thing—you will never see the world the same way again! Possible 2018 global destinations include: Kyoto, Beijing, Fez, Angkor Wat, Tibet, Laos, Sri Lanka, Italy, Zanzibar, Taj Mahal, Israel, Machu Picchu, Prague and Moscow. You will also feel proud about participating in The Global Scavenger Hunt with its Good Neighbor Policy of trying to give a little something back to our Global Village by visiting some great causes and people along the way, and by helping to raise funds for some wonderful international charities with our Great*Escape* Foundation.

The Event Set Up:

The Global Scavenger Hunt has been successfully conducted annually since 2002, and is designed as a global rally—not a race!

Teams arrive on the same pre-booked plane to each new exotic destination and are efficiently met by pre-arranged VIP transportation and taken to their First Class luxury accommodations (Mandarin-Oriental, Shangri-La, Hyatt Regency, and Relais & Chateaux boutique quality-like hotels). Teams are given the opportunity to freshen up and replenish before they start each new rally leg. Teams are then given a localized scavenger hunt booklet of novel, exciting, interesting, fun, inspiring and highly-interactive things to do...we call it sight-doing...to complete during their 48 to 96-hour stay in each rally spot.

Teams then strategize and formulate a plan about how to do the fun and gratifying scavenges that they want to do, and that will earn their team points for completing tasks. At the end of each leg (rally point), teams meet and swap wildly heroic travel stories before being given their airline tickets to the next secret destination—hence A Blind Date with the World. And so, begins another leg...every Global Scavenger Hunt event to date has visited at least 10 countries!

Sample Scavenges:

Through successful around the world events our intrepid travelers have fulfilled scores of Bucket List-worthy activities; from visiting exotic destinations, world heritage sites and natural wonders, to personally having fun completing hundreds of amazing sight-doing activities in over 75 countries. A few were:

- Learned how to make baklava in a famous local Istanbul bakery.
- Learned ancient meditation techniques from a yogi master in Kathmandu.
- Taken an elephant safari searching for Bengal tigers in Rajasthan.
- Learned drinking songs and various national anthems in Bavarian hofbräuhaus.
- Played taxicab roulette and eaten at the favorite family-style restaurant of the drivers.
- Gotten themselves invited for dinner at the home of a rural Sri Lanka family.
- Located the coliseum where Gladiators was filmed in time for a Sahara desert sunset.
- Donated their morning helping out at an orphanage near Angkor Wat in Cambodia.
- Attended a session of parliament in Korea.
- Learned how to make pad thai from a master Thai chef in Chiang Mai.
- Taken a camel to visit the lost city of Petra.
- Attended a festive midnight Orthodox Easter mass in a Greek cathedral.
- Sung "Born to be Wild" in a karaoke bar with three new friends in Kyoto.
- Created a mock art critic video after seeing Edvard Munch's The Scream in Oslo.
- Learned the Cyrillic alphabet over a pint of beer with new friends in Bulgaria.

We've Been Every Where...

Our participants have also ridden on any and all manner of alternative modes of public transportation, from: rickshaws, chicken buses, camels, jeepneys, subways, ferries, pedicabs, horse carts, bullet trains, dhows, bicycles, vaporettis, tuk-tuks, segaways, balloons, barges and elephants, to get where they needed to go. (Note to competitors: The unofficial event record is 28 different modes of transportation over 23 days!)

Please, register online at GlobalScavengerHunt.com or call us today at 1.310.281.7809. Entry is limited...so don't delay!

The World's Greatest Travelers™

After traveling 23-days around the world doing amazing things and after seeing the world as only a few ever will with some extraordinary fellow travelers and new lifetime friends, the event ends at the Winners Gala with the winners crowning—who get to defend their title for free next year—a $25,000+ non-cash prize!
